Youth Sports

Airway Heights ~ Medical Lake ~ Fairchild Air Force Base ~ Cheney

Better Sports for Kids...Better Kids for Life.

The 4-Rec Youth Sports program provides recreational youth sports geared towards skill learning, sportsmanship, participation and FUN; all efforts will be directed into teaching the kids the importance of fair play, sportsmanship, and enjoying the sports. Any unsportsmanlike conduct by players, coaches, and/or parents will not be tolerated!

As competition will always be involved in team sports, the competitive spirit can be developed in each player's own personal goals and not forced by teams, by coaches and by parents. It is organization's policy to stress the importance of having the kids learn from their own experience in our Youth Sports League.

Those coaches and parents who do not agree with this organization's philosophy are urged to participate in the many other programs in the area.

Collectively all four communities will always be working continually to do all that it can to benefit the kids involved in our youth sports programs.

Thank you.

What is 4-Rec?

Airway Heights, Medical Lake, Fairchild Air Force Base, and Cheney are proud to bring a Youth Sports program to our communities across the West Plains. All four agencies work closely to properly and positively represent each community of the West Plains.

Through a collaborative effort each community work together to provide a variety of recreational youth sports opportunities to the kids of the entire West Plains community.

Our Mission

4-Rec Youth Sports' mission is to provide the youngsters of the West Plains a fun, safe environment to learn, play, and enjoy each sport, regardless of ability, through positive and supportive interactions with peers, parents, and coaches.

Our Goal

The goal of 4-Rec Youth Sports is to provide a positive youth sports experience for everyone involved in the program, and to encouraging and promote the benefits lifelong involvement in recreational play.

What Sports Are Offered?

4-Rec Youth Sports program offers year-round opportunities for youth to participate in informal sports & fitness as well as formalized youth sports leagues, specialty camps, and instructional programs. All activities are designed to provide opportunities for the youth in our communities to learn personal skills, teamwork and sportsmanship.

SPORTS	TIME FRAME
Basketball	January - March
Soccer	April - May
	September - October
Flag Football	September - October
Volleyball	September - October

Specialty Camps & Instructional Programs vary by location. Check with your local 4-Rec agency for more details.*

ALL SPORTS ARE LOCALLY MODIFIED TO FIT AVAILIABLE FIELDS AND FACILITIES.

Who plays?

All 4-Rec Youth Sports leagues are open to kids ages 5-12.

Age divisions are as follows*: 5 & 6, 7 & 8, 9 & 10, 11 & 12 and in some cases 9/10/11.

Some age division modifications may apply to some sports*

BUMP UP RULE- The "Bump Up Rule" allows for younger players to play in one age division up. This rule may only be applied if the player has played at least one season in their true age division of the specific sports, and must have approval from the local Youth Sports Administrator.

Multi-Sport Rule- Participants may only play on one team and one sport in the 4Rec League. Participants may play for other leagues at the same time as 4Rec.

Who Coaches?

The 4-Rec Youth Sports depend on parents and community members as volunteer coaches. All coaches are required to undergo a Criminal History Background Check and attend Coaches Training through the National Alliance for Youth Sports (NAYS) and the National Youth Sports Coaches Association (NYSCA). 4-Rec coaches are expected to provide a safe and positive learning environment and teach basic skills of Youth Sports and the importance of sportsmanship.

When are games and practices?

Practices-

The volunteer coaches, once approved by the local Youth Sports Administrator, set Practice days and times. All practices are held in your registered community and shall be no longer than one hour in length for ages 5-7 and one hour and fifteen minutes for ages 9-12, and all teams may practice two times per week.

Games

All games are played on Saturday mornings in all four communities excluding Volleyball and Summer Teeball/Coach Pitch/Baseball. Volleyball games are played on Thursday evenings and Teeball/Coach Pitch/Baseball are played on weekday evenings in the summer. Games are played in our local parks and school facilities in each community.

What equipment do I need?

Each coach will be issued the equipment for each team. Players should have sweatpants and/or shorts with NO pockets. It is strongly encouraged that each player has sports specific shoes, but not required. Some cleats are designed for different sports, and should be worn for those sports. For example, soccer cleats do not have a “toe cleat”, but baseball cleats do. Soccer players must have shin guards. Non marking soles are required for our indoor sports, so any tennis shoes or sneaker will be acceptable.

Please review the following information contained in this packet, and if you have any questions feel free to contact any participating community.

- 6 Parent's Active Role
Parents must make a serious effort to take an active role in the youth sports experience of their child providing support as a spectator, coach, league administrator and /or caring parent.

- 7 Positive Role Models
Parents must provide role models, exhibiting sportsmanlike behavior at games, practices, and home, while also giving positive reinforcement to their child and support to their child's coaches.

- 8 Parental Commitment
Parents must demonstrate their commitment to their child's youth sports experience by annually signing the Parents' Code of Ethics Pledge.

- 9 Safe Playing Situations
Parents must insist on safe playing facilities, healthful playing situations, and proper first aid applications, should the need arise.

- 10 Equal Play Opportunity
Parents, coaches, and league administrators must provide equal sports play opportunity for all youth regardless of race, creed, sex, economic status or ability.

- 11 Drug, Tobacco & Alcohol-Free Adults
Parents must be drug, tobacco and alcohol-free at all practices and games.

AIRWAY HEIGHTS PARKS & REC YOUTH SPORTS PROGRAM
PARENT TRAINING HANDOUT

Philosophy of Youth Sports:

The philosophy of the Airway Heights Youth Sports program is to teach the basic skills which young people need to play various youth sports in a safe and nurturing environment, where all children get an equal chance to play regardless of skill level. Every child has the right to have fun while participating in the program; we will not tolerate any abusive behavior that jeopardizes a child's well being.

Role of the Parent in Youth Sports:

Parents are vital to the success of any youth sports program. Your role is to become familiar with the program philosophy and to understand the importance of your role as a youth sports parent. Be sure to get your child to practices and games on time. Ensure you meet the coach and lend your support to him or her by offering to help with various aspects of the team. You should cheer for good efforts by all players and give praise often. Show respect for the officials, administrators, and coaches by showing good sportsmanship at all times.

Role of the Coach in Youth Sports:

The youth coach has a very important and serious role. He or she is looked upon as a mentor, authority figure, and expert in the particular sport played by your child. The coach is an extension of the Parks and Recreation Staff and should support the philosophy and goals of the program. The coach must uphold the highest standards of ethics and morals and should be someone that each child respects. The coach's job is to teach sport specific skills, teach the concept of teamwork, and encourage all players to participate fully and have fun.

Program Goals:

The youth program offers a wide array of organized sports activities for youth to help them develop desirable physical skills and to mature emotionally and socially. The sports program provides opportunities for children to have contact with other youths, volunteer leaders, and youth program staff. It also provides opportunities for parents to socialize with other parents and for adults to contribute to the community by serving as volunteers in youth programs.

Providing Positive Reinforcement:

Children thrive under positive reinforcement. The best thing parents can do to ensure a fun and enjoyable sports experience is to praise their child's efforts, point out the positive, and keep criticism to a minimum. The attitude displayed by you will go a long way towards how your child feels about his or her participation in youth sports.

Role Modeling:

All parents are role models to their children and they generally learn to act by watching adults, in particular parents. By showing support for the coach, the program, the officials, and by displaying a positive attitude, your child will learn to act the same way. Be a positive role model so your child will grow up showing positive characteristics and acquire healthy attitudes about sports. Players, especially younger ones, participate to have fun, learn skills, and build relationships with their peers. They see adults as role models and will generally act according to how their coaches and other adults act.

Expected Parent Behavior:

Parents are expected to abide by the highest standards of sportsmanship at all times. Cheering for and encouraging players to do their best and making encouraging comments to players is desired and acceptable. A negative comment about players, coaches, officials or administrators is not acceptable under any circumstances.

Discussing Concerns:

All concerns about the youth sports program are taken seriously and should be discussed as soon as they occur. The youth program has a desire to offer the best quality program it can. Therefore, concerns that you may have, especially those that will improve our program are welcomed. Criticism can be helpful if it is constructive and especially if it is followed up with recommendations for solutions.

Providing a Safe Playing Environment: Please report any safety hazards that could pose potential safety risks to participants. Every child has a right to safe play conditions, therefore prompt action is requested to report any safety concerns to the Parks and Recreation Department staff.

Desired Outcomes: The outcome we desire to achieve through the youth sports program is skill improvement by every child who participates, acquisition of assets, and a demonstrated reflection of fun through smiles, laughter, and newly acquired friendship. Only participation awards are given in the youth sports program. The Parks and Recreation Department supplies participation awards for all participants.

Initiatives That Support Desired Outcomes: All coaches and parents are required to “buy in” to the program philosophy and mission. By doing this they will put the kid’s needs first which will result in each child having a fun and positive sports experience. Initiatives include minimum play rules for each league, smaller teams, more opportunities for success through rule modifications, de-emphasizing of scores and emphasizing participation, fun, and teaching of basic sports skills.

Coach/Volunteer Recruiting Program: An active volunteer coach recruitment program is utilized to recruit volunteers as coaches and assistant coaches for our programs. Once recruited all volunteers will be required to fill out a volunteer application form and be required to undergo a background check. There will be no discrimination in any way of qualified individuals to coach or volunteer based on creed, race, or gender.

Training: The Youth Sports Administrator is a qualified National Youth Sports Coaches Association (NYSCA) trained clinician and is qualified to teach and train our coaches as NYSCA certified coaches. All volunteers are required to attend training, which is offered several times each year.

Providing a Safe Playing Environment: The Youth Sports Administrator, Parks and Recreation staff, Coaches and Officials will ensure all areas are safe for children to play on. Annual inspections are done at all facilities and continuous upkeep is scheduled. Parents, coaches, and players are asked to assist in this effort by reporting safety hazards, by picking up litter, debris, and items that could pose potential safety risks to participants. Every child has a right to safe playing conditions, therefore prompt action is requested to report any safety concerns to the recreation department staff. The Parks and Recreation Department will cancel games and practices if it is deemed an unsafe environment to play in. In the absence of Parks and Recreation Staff, coaches and officials should use common sense and consider the safety of everyone involved. Under no circumstances will fields be used when there is thunder or lightning in the vicinity or when there is any other condition that would increase the chance for injury.

Punishment of Opponents Through Physical Contact or Excessive Score Domination: Under no circumstances will coaches or players attempt to inflict punishment (physical, psychological, or emotional) by excessive physical contact or by purposely running up the score to humiliate the other team. In addition, no coach will punish a player by forcing him or her to do physically exerting activities as means of punishment.

Rules That Significantly Reduce Chances of Injury: Rules will be modified in all age groups to ensure that chances of injury are greatly reduced. Tee-ball, for example, will use safety balls or soft rag balls to cut down on injuries by players being hit with the ball. In addition, low injury potential increases the likelihood that youth will learn proper techniques and not be afraid of the ball.

Equipment Designed to Ensure Injury Reduction: Whenever possible equipment and supplies purchased for youth sports programs meets age requirements and designed to reduce injuries. All equipment will go through an inspection before the start of each season. If equipment seems unsafe for child's use, report it to the staff and it will be changed out immediately.

First Aid Kits: All coaches are provided a first aid kit in case of a minor injury.

Season Play: All sports are limited to six weeks of regular play. No elite or "all-star" teams will be formed for leagues under the age of 12. Whenever possible a youth sports league will have no more than a 2-year age range such as 5&6, 7&8, 9&10, 11&12. In case there are not enough players to conduct a league or form a team, every effort will be made to keep the age range as low as possible. Throughout the games every child needs to have as close to equal playing time as possible. Under no circumstances will a coach take away playing time for missing practices or games for any reason, these will be seen as excused absences. All coaches, official, and spectators must refrain from use of alcohol, tobacco, and illegal substances at any youth sports event. Violators will be removed from the program. Officials have authority to remove spectators and/or coaches.

Participation in Several Programs: The Parks and Recreation Department encourages youngsters to participate in a variety of youth activities in addition to the child's particular sports program. This will ensure a well-rounded recreational/educational experience and do far more to prepare each child for adult life. The development of numerous assets is critical to developing successful adults. Under no circumstances will a child be excluded from a youth sports program because of their race, creed, sex, economic status, financial ability to pay, or ability.

AIRWAY HEIGHTS PARKS & REC YOUTH SPORTS SPECTATOR POLICY

The Airway Heights Parks & Recreation Department Youth Sports program aims to put the needs of the children above the needs of the adults. With this in mind, many adaptations are made to the rules, fields, teams, rosters, and policies.

The main objective of organized youth sports is to provide children a sense of self worth through attainment of life-long skill, opportunity for fun, and through meaningful play and participation. Far too many youth drop out of organized sports by the age of 13 due to negative experiences, failure to learn the necessary skills, and lack of fun!

We, at the Airway Heights Parks and Recreation Department have established strict policies for our parents and spectators to follow to ensure this objective is maintained.

Spectators of any Parks and Recreation Department Programs sporting event are expected to abide by the highest standards of sportsmanship at all times. Cheering for and encouraging players to do their best and making encouraging comments to players is acceptable, however negative comments of any kind directed to players, coaches, or officials is not acceptable under any circumstances.

Players, especially younger ones, participate to have fun, learn skills, and build relationships with their peers. They see all adults as role models and will generally act according to how they see their coaches and other adults act.

Scores are not kept, and no standings are kept in any divisions, therefore arguing with officials about calls does nothing but embarrass you, your child, and the spectators around you. Officials are not going to change their calls no matter what you say. The best policy is to gracefully accept the decisions of officials and sports staff and set a positive example for your child by focusing on his/her efforts and not specific incidents or game outcomes.

If negative behavior is observed by the Parks & Recreation staff, officials, or volunteers the offender will be warned and reminded of their behavior. If it continues the offender will be asked to remove him/herself from the field or facility.

Games should be viewed as an opportunity for players to showcase their skills and show their improvements. The self esteem and self worth of all players is greatly enhanced when spectators and parents cheer for all participants and show appreciation for their efforts and do not openly criticize officials, coaches, or players.

Poor sportsmanship and negative behavior has no place in youth sports and will not be tolerated at any practice or game.

It is the mission of the Youth Sports program to teach the basic skills youth need to play various youth sports in a safe and nurturing environment, where all children get an equal chance to play regardless of skill level.

Parents' Code of Ethics

I hereby pledge to provide positive support, care, and encouragement for my child participating in youth sports by following this Parents' Code of Ethics Pledge:

Concussion and Head Injury Prevention and Management – EHB 1824

In compliance with Engrossed House Bill 1824, the Zackery Lystedt Law, School Districts are now required, in cooperation with the Washington Inter-Scholastic Activities Association (WIAA), to develop guidelines and information to inform and educate youth athletes, coaches, and parents about the nature and risks of concussions and head injuries. School districts now require proof of insurance and a statement of compliance from youth sports organizations using their fields and facilities for youth sports and other physical activities with respect to policies for the management of concussion and head injury in youth sports. Please read and review the below information with your coaches, children and fellow parents.

Concussions:

A concussion is a brain injury and all brain injuries are serious. They are caused by a bump, blow, or jolt to the head, or by a blow to another part of the body with the force transmitted to the head. They can range from mild to severe and can disrupt the way the brain normally works.

Even though most concussions are mild, all concussions are potentially serious and may result in complications including prolonged brain damage and death if not recognized and managed properly. In other words, even a “ding” or a bump on the head can be serious. You can’t see a concussion and most sports concussions occur without loss of consciousness. Signs and symptoms of a concussion may show up right after the injury or can take hours or days to fully appear. If your child reports any symptoms of a concussion, or if you notice the symptoms or signs of a concussion yourself, seek medical attention immediately.

Symptoms may include one or more of the following:

- | | |
|--|--------------------------------------|
| -Headaches | -Change in sleep patterns |
| -“Pressure in head” | -“Don’t feel right” |
| -Nausea or vomiting | -Neck pain |
| -Balance problems or dizziness | -Blurred, double, or fuzzy vision |
| -Sensitivity to light or noise | -Feeling sluggish or slowed down |
| -Feeling foggy or groggy | -Drowsiness |
| -Fatigue or low energy | -Sadness |
| -Nervousness or anxiety | -Irritability |
| -More emotional | -Confusion |
| -Concentration or memory problems
(Forgetting game plays) | -Repeating the same question/comment |

Signs observed by teammates, parents and coaches include:

- | | |
|--|--|
| -Appears dazed | -Vacant facial expression |
| -Confused about assignment | -Forgets plays |
| -Is unsure of game, score, or opponent | -Moves clumsily or looks uncoordinated |
| -Answers questions slowly | -Slurred speech |
| -Shows behavior or personality changes | -Can’t recall events prior to hit |
| -Can’t recall events after hit | -Seizures or convulsions |
| -Any change in typical behavior or personality | -Loses consciousness |

What can happen if my child keeps on playing with a concussion or returns to soon?

Athletes with the signs and symptoms of concussion should be removed from play immediately. Continuing to play with the signs and symptoms of a concussion leaves the young athlete especially vulnerable to greater injury. There is an increased risk of significant damage from a concussion for a period of time after that concussion occurs, particularly if the athlete suffers another concussion before completely recovering from the first one. This can lead to prolonged recovery, or even to severe brain swelling (second impact syndrome) with devastating and even fatal consequences. It is well known that adolescent or teenage athlete will often under report symptoms of injuries. And concussions are no different. As a result, education of administrators, coaches, parents and students is the key for student-athlete's safety.

If you think your child has suffered a concussion

Any athlete even suspected of suffering a concussion should be removed from the game or practice immediately. No athlete may return to activity after an apparent head injury or concussion, regardless of how mild it seems or how quickly symptoms clear, without medical clearance. Close observation of the athlete should continue for several hours. The new "Zackery Lystedt Law" in Washington now requires the consistent and uniform implementation of long and well-established return to play concussion guidelines that have been recommended for several years: "a youth athlete who is suspected of sustaining a concussion or head injury in a practice or game shall be removed from competition at that time" and "...may not return to play until the athlete is evaluated by a licensed health care provider trained in the evaluation and management of concussion and received written clearance to return to play from that health care provider".

You should also inform your child's coach if you think that your child may have a concussion. Remember its better to miss one game than miss the whole season. And when in doubt, the athlete sits out.

Sudden Cardiac Arrest

Information Sheet for

Student-Athletes, Coaches and Parents/Guardians

SSB 5083 ~ SCA Awareness Act

What is sudden cardiac arrest? Sudden Cardiac Arrest (SCA) is the sudden onset of an abnormal and lethal heart rhythm, causing the heart to stop beating and the individual to collapse. SCA is the leading cause of death in the U.S. afflicting over 300,000 individuals per year.

SCA is also the leading cause of sudden death in young athletes during sports

What causes sudden cardiac arrest? SCA in young athletes is usually caused by a structural or electrical disorder of the heart. Many of these conditions are inherited (genetic) and can develop as an adolescent or young adult. SCA is more likely during exercise or physical activity, placing student-athletes with undiagnosed heart conditions at greater risk. SCA also can occur from a direct blow to the chest by a firm projectile (baseball, softball, lacrosse ball, or hockey puck) or by chest contact from another player (called "commotio cordis").

While a heart condition may have no warning signs, some young athletes may have symptoms but neglect to tell an adult. If any of the following symptoms are present, a cardiac evaluation by a physician is recommended:

- Passing out during exercise
- Chest pain with exercise
- Excessive shortness of breath with exercise
- Palpitations (heart racing for no reason)
- Unexplained seizures
- A family member with early onset heart disease or sudden death from a heart condition before the age of 40

Cardiac 3-Minute Drill

1. RECOGNIZE Sudden Cardiac Arrest

- Collapsed and unresponsive
- Abnormal breathing
- Seizure-like activity

2. CALL 9-1-1

- Call for help and for an AED

3. CPR

- Begin chest compressions
- Push hard/ push fast (100 per minute)

4. AED

- Use AED as soon as possible

5. CONTINUE CARE

- Continue CPR and AED until EMS arrives

How to prevent and treat sudden cardiac arrest? Some heart conditions at risk for SCA can be detected by a thorough heart screening evaluation. However, all schools and teams should be prepared to respond to a cardiac emergency. Young athletes who suffer SCA are collapsed and unresponsive and may appear to have brief seizure-like activity or abnormal breathing (gaspings). SCA can be effectively treated by immediate recognition, prompt CPR, and quick access to a defibrillator (AED). AEDs are safe, portable devices that read and analyze the heart rhythm and provide an electric shock (if necessary) to restore a normal heart rhythm.

Remember, to save a life: recognize SCA, call 9-1-1, begin CPR, and use an AED as soon as possible!

Be Prepared!
Every Second Counts!
